European companies that would like to enter the North American market (USA, Mexico or Canada) and sell their products need to be aware of data privacy regulations, especially when it comes to online sales and shipping of products to North America. This webinar will focus on GDPR vs. US, Canadian and Mexican privacy requirements, corporate law implications, and questions of data collection, data use and data sharing that European companies have to consider.

The webinar will feature a Q&A session. You may ask questions during the Q&A or submit them when you register.
