Doing business in the United States is not always easy and there are many things that need to be taken into consideration.

During this webinar, the first in a series, the speakers will provide a business outlook on the U.S. economy and cover some recent developments that should be considered when doing business in the U.S., particularly:

- U.S. trade regulations
- Insight into U.S. semiconductor export controls
- Antitrust and compliance issues
- Anti-money laundering rules, reporting requirements and compliance procedures
