Tim Haley Honored As 'Rising Star' Environmental Attorney By Law360

April 15, 2015 | Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS - National legal publication Law360 has named environmental attorney Tim Haley of Barnes & Thornburg LLP's Indianapolis office as a "Rising Star." Two attorneys were recognized nationwide in the area of environmental law.

"It's an honor to be included on Law360's Rising Stars list," Haley said. "This is a testament to the high profile work our Environmental Department is doing regionally and nationally."

Law360 editors selected Haley after a review of more than 1,200 applications nominating attorneys under 40 years old whose legal accomplishments surpass their age.

"We're proud that Tim is one of only two environmental lawyers under 40 nationally to be recognized on this list," said Charles Denton, Barnes & Thornburg's Environmental Department Chair. "Tim's accomplishments are a direct reflection of his commitment to the environmental profession and legal field, which makes him an outstanding asset to our environmental group and to our firm's clients."

Haley focuses his practice on environmental issues in business and real estate transactions, enforcement defense, litigation, regulatory compliance in areas such as remediation of impaired properties, cost recovery for environmentally impaired properties, Clean Air Act and Clean Water Act permitting, solid and hazardous waste, and storm water, flood plain and wetlands issues. He is a member of Barnes & Thornburg's Environmental Department and the Construction Law, Climate Change, and Policyholder Insurance Recovery and Counseling Group practice groups.

The list is published in an article titled, "Law360 Names Top Attorneys Under 40."

With more than 600 attorneys and other legal professionals, Barnes & Thornburg is one of the largest law firms in the country.
