

Stephanie Synol has an expansive background representing clients in a variety of complex commercial, product liability, toxic tort and consumer class action cases in state and federal courts. A skilled communicator and active listener, Stephanie is a steadfast problem-solver with an eye for risk mitigation.

Stephanie is skilled in the areas of case management, trial preparation, dispositive motions and negotiating positive resolutions when necessary. She has managed the defense of robust litigation caseloads, from case inception to trial. She focuses on initial case analysis to help shape defense strategy, including communication with stakeholders and selecting expert witnesses.

With extensive pretrial experience, Stephanie has taken and defended depositions of company officials, lay witnesses and expert witnesses.

Prior to joining the firm, Stephanie was senior counsel at a Chicago-based litigation firm. Before law school, she was a senior in-house paralegal at an international cosmetic and consumer goods manufacturer for nearly a decade.

In her free time, Stephanie enjoys spending time with her family and two beloved French bulldogs.
