BTI Consulting Names Barnes & Thornburg ‘Midsize Powerhouse’

May 22, 2020

Companies surveyed by BTI Consulting Group have recognized Barnes & Thornburg, with 19 offices from coast to coast, as one of six firms nationally that are “midsize powerhouses.” BTI singled out these firms for offering “the same level of confidence and reliability as the big firms.”

According to BTI, clients look to Barnes & Thornburg and the others on the list for “a wide variety of risky, delicate, and thorny matters – including highly customized advice about reopening and related issues” in this era of COVID-19.

“These firms are uber-responsive, dig deep, hard, and fast to find the answers. Always quick to embrace new approaches to billing and problems, these firms make sure clients always know who is accountable for their work and the relationship,” said Michael B. Rynowecer, president and founder of BTI Consulting. “Clients report these firms bring industry understanding and the most important factor – an unfailing commitment to help. These overachievers are among the most active in providing up-close counsel and trusted advice.”

To compile the list, BTI conducted more than 340 in-depth interviews across 17 industries in the U.S. According to BTI, no law firm can self-submit, refer a client, or pay to be included on any BTI list. To learn more about the list, click here.
