

The Resurgence Of Narrow Networks In An Evolving Delivery System

DATE

May 22, 2015

Mark Rust of the Chicago office gave a plenary session presentation to the annual Southern Illinois University Health Law Symposium in Carbondale, Illinois, on May 22 entitled "The Resurgence of Narrow Networks in an Evolving Delivery System," as part of the SIU/Southern Illinois Health System Health Policy Institute Program, "New and Evolving Health Delivery Options." Mark plans to adapt his remarks to a written article for the Journal of Health Law Policy, published by SIU in partnership with the American College of Legal Medicine.