A good pitch deck can help open doors with investors, but a bad one can get you relegated to the bottom of the pile. Is your deck up to the scrutiny?

Our panel will share tips on what to include (or not to include), how to present your company, product, and team, and give some insights on what investors are really looking for when they read between the lines.

Networking and lunch begins at 11:30 a.m. for those attending in person, and the program begins at noon for all attendees.

Questions? Email Blakelee Kortz or call 317-231-7316.
