

Chris Clifford brings to her attorneys and clients more than 20 years of experience in the area of commercial litigation. She is well-respected for her organizational skills regarding virtually all types of litigation, and her ability to work efficiently and effectively.

Chris works in the areas of commercial litigation and intellectual property litigation, and is a trusted asset to her colleagues who seek her advice and input.

She assists with preparing pleadings, motions and discovery; monitoring deadlines; maintaining and analyzing document inventories; managing high-volume document production; and preparing case chronologies.

Chris also helps with the e-discovery process, including document collection, review and production as well as the management of an e-discovery tool. In addition, she assists with and for depositions for commercial litigation matters, as well as for intellectual property litigation matters.

Christine Clifford

Paralegal

One N. Wacker Drive
Suite 4400
Chicago, IL 60606-2833

P 312-214-4865
F 312-759-5646
Christine.Clifford@btlaw.com

EDUCATION

Illinois State University, (B.S.), political science

Roosevelt University, (general degree), paralegal studies

LANGUAGES

English

PRACTICES

Commercial Litigation

Consumer Class Action Defense

Intellectual Property

Litigation