

SPEAKING ENGAGEMENTS

Dress For Success Indianapolis Presentation

DATE

March 30, 2022

Amber Bollman and Matt Wells spoke on negotiation skills with clients of Dress for Success Indianapolis. The virtual program was attended by several women looking to advance in their careers and gain skills in advocating for themselves in the job marketplace. The discussion, which included several questions from the audience, was focused on best practices for preparing yourself to have a respectful professional development conversation aimed at improving quality of life in a workplace environment
