

SPEAKING ENGAGEMENTS*Congressional Hispanic Leadership Institute*DATE*October 9, 2013

Liz Lopez of the Washington, D.C., office was a panelist at the Congressional Hispanic Leadership Institute (CHLI) Trade and International Affairs Symposium Plenary Session held Oct. 9 in Washington, D.C. Liz discussed the legal aspects of trade as it relates to intellectual property. Panelists included Maria Cristina Capelo, Latin America senior policy analyst, public policy and government relations, at Google; and Jason Llorenz, director of innovation policy at Rutgers University.