Barnes & Thornburg Attorney Chad Stover Recognized By Super Lawyers®

May 23, 2014 | Delaware

WILMINGTON, DEL. – Chad Stover of Barnes & Thornburg's Delaware office has been recognized as a "Rising Star" by Super Lawyers.

Stover was recognized for his work in intellectual property litigation. In his practice, he represents clients in a variety of industries with patent litigation, trademark and copyright litigation, and unfair competition and trade secret litigation.

Active in the bar, Stover currently is the Programs Co-Chair for the American Bar Association's IP Litigation Committee. He has also been appointed to the Delaware Board of Bar Examiners and is active with the Federal Bar Association and the American Intellectual Property Law Association.

Stover earned his J.D. from the University of North Carolina School of Law and his bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering from the University of Delaware.

Super Lawyers, a Thomson Reuters business, is a rating service of outstanding lawyers from more than 70 practice areas who have attained a high degree of peer recognition and professional achievement. The annual selections are made using a rigorous multi-phased process that includes a statewide survey of lawyers, an independent research evaluation of candidates and peer reviews by practice area.
