No company wants to think about litigation. But avoiding the subject does not help you protect your business. The panel of attorneys will discuss the fine points of owning a business that you need to address as your business grows – details that you may not have realized are key to complying with Indiana law and avoiding costly litigation.

Learn more about...

- Developing policies for mobile devices and social media use in the workplace
- How to protect your company's data, interests, intellectual property and confidential information
- Pitfalls to avoid when drafting, reviewing and signing contracts
- Procedures for applying electronic signatures to contracts
- Typical provisions of a non-compete agreement
- How other state's laws drive non-compete strategies for Indiana employers
