Anthony Arnold was a speaker during a live panel discussion via Zoom hosted by the Association for Corporate Growth for “M&A Deals – How They Move in Uncertain Times.” While M&A deals are still happening in the midst the COVID-19 pandemic, the pace of new announcements has slowed as buyers and sellers are learning how to adapt to the new situation. The topics that were covered during the panel were how buyers and sellers have adjusted their approach on deals currently in progress, repercussions for valuation and deal structure, how due diligence is changing, and the outlook for M&A for the remainder of 2020 and beyond.
