There is a great deal of speculation about the changes that the Biden-Harris administration will make to U.S. immigration policy, and perhaps no other area of federal policy will be as affected by this transition. During an interactive program, join Barnes & Thornburg partners as they:

- Summarize the biggest changes to U.S. business immigration policy since the start of the Trump administration and identify policies the Biden-Harris administration is likely to reverse and where continuity is likely
- Identify the current status and substance of several rules pertinent to the H-1B program that the Trump administration is seeking to finalize during the transition

- Identify key legislative, regulatory, and non-regulatory priorities for the new administration
- Discussion regarding outlook on the H-1B lottery

1.0 hour CLE credit pending. This program is valid for 1.0 PDCs for the SHRM-CP® or SHRM-SCP®.
