Program Overview

Join us as we welcome the following panel of professionals in discussing "Digital Deep Sea Diving."

Our first panelist, Rose Goldman is a non-tech Ninja and Accelerant at Automattic. Automattic is the company behind wordpress.com, which has shared its blogging platform with millions worldwide. Rose will be speaking about blogging as a tool for managing your online brand, both personal and corporate, and how to use blogging together with other social media tools like Twitter, Facebook, and LinkedIn to create a more powerful online presence.

Our next panelist, Shelly Towns, serves as the Vice President of Product for Angie's List, where she is charged with innovation and the end-to-end service experience for more than 2 million members, including desktop and web applications as well as the company's call center, data and Newsroom operations.

Our final panelist, David A. W. Wong, is a partner with Barnes & Thornburg LLP where he is a member of the Intellectual Property Department and Chairman of the Internet and Technology Law Group. Mr. Wong's practice focuses on Internal law, technology, media, intellectual property counseling, risk management, prosecution, policing, and enforcement.

Our moderator, Allison Barber, is the Chancellor of WGU Indiana, the state's online, competency-based university. A native Hoosier and graduate of Indiana University, Barber joins the university with more than 20 years of experience in education and public service.
