

Frank Mattingly is a knowledgeable and hard-working litigator who focuses his practice on advising and assisting clients in product liability, mass tort, and commercial litigation.

Frank defends manufacturers and retailers of all shapes and sizes in product liability and negligence actions as well as assisting in the negotiation and execution of large-scale settlement agreements. He has a passion for efficiently and effectively solving complex issues facing these clients.

A creative thinker, Frank concentrates on helping to execute litigation strategies and to navigate the e-discovery process in the most efficient and effective manner for the benefit of his clients.

Prior to joining Barnes & Thornburg, Frank worked for two other Indiana firms, where he gained substantial experience representing businesses and municipalities both in and out of the courtroom.
