I AM...

- A proud Detroit native
- A passionate advocate for the autism community; always looking for ways to educate and promote acceptance and inclusion
- A resource for parents of children recently diagnosed with autism spectrum disorder – my personal mission is to support every parent that I can
- A planner; I love to stay busy and meet up with friends
- A great teammate; willing and capable to do anything needed to help the team succeed
- A pescatarian who doesn't really like seafood. More like a vegetarian with a sprinkle of seafood.
- A former Division 1 athlete – I played women's basketball at Ball State University (chirp, chirp!)
- A tall woman who loves to wear heels
- A mother of two amazing and active children
- Married to my college sweetheart who also played basketball at Ball State. We recently celebrated 14 years married and 19 years together.
