

ARTICLES

What The Liu Decision Means For Federal Equity Receivers

December 1, 2020 | New York

David Slovic authored an article in the December 2020 edition of The Receiver, "What the Liu Decision Means for Federal Equity Receivers," regarding the U.S. Supreme Court decision in Liu v. Securities and Exchange Commission, which limited the government's ability to impose monetary sanctions on defendants in Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) enforcement cases.

RELATED PEOPLE

David Slovic

Partner

New York, Washington, D.C.

P 646-746-2019

F 646-746-2001

dslovick@btlaw.com