

Indiana State Bar Association's 5th Annual Health Law Symposium

DATE

September 11, 2015

Heather Delgado of the Chicago office and Laura Seng of the South Bend office spoke at the Indiana State Bar Association's 5th Annual Health Law Symposium on Sept. 11 in Indianapolis. Their topic, "High Profile Infectious Diseases - Advance Planning for Hospitals and Providers," included a presentation to Indiana attorneys and hospital/facility administrators and board members regarding the critical components for hospital emergency response plans and comprehensive infection control management plans to address high-profile infectious disease such as Ebola or MERS.