

Meagan Dimond guides her clients in navigating the ups and downs of the healthcare industry. Meagan advises hospitals, physician groups and other healthcare systems regarding compliance with federal and state healthcare laws and regulations.

Meagan's diligence, attention to detail, and client-centered approach make her a trusted legal adviser, assisting on a wide range of transactional and regulatory matters.

Prior to joining the firm full-time, Meagan was a summer associate and law clerk and gained valuable experience, including conducting 50-state regulatory reviews, evaluating contracts, and developing legal and professional development seminars.

Meagan started her career as a special education teacher, working with kindergarten through sixth grade students with autism, developing effective intervention and cross-disciplinary learning and support plans to meet the unique needs of each learner. She carries those communication and problem-solving skills into her practice.

As a former Division I volleyball player, Meagan understands the importance of health and wellness, so beyond the work she does for her clients, she is a fitness and nutrition enthusiast.
