

Life Sciences Lunch: Tech Transfer Driving

DATE

August 15, 2017

SPEAKERS

Deborah Pollack-Milgate
Partner

The Technology Transfer Offices at Indiana's leading research universities are churning out new technologies and startup companies like never before. Finding new ways to support and develop early stage innovations and then matching those with the right development partners takes time, creativity, and a network of partnerships with industry and funders. Please join us as we hear from a panel of research university representatives highlighting some of their latest life science technologies and explore how they are gearing up to smooth out the translational process!

Panelists

Brooke Beier, Executive Director of Purdue's Office of Technology Commercialization, Purdue Research Foundation

Karen Imgrund Deak, PhD, Commercialization Specialist, IDEA Center, University of Notre Dame

Simon Atkinson, IU Vice Chancellor for Research at IUPUI and Indiana University's VP for Innovation
