Attorneys in the Indianapolis office, the firm's largest, are the trusted advisers for individuals, entrepreneurs, civic organizations, Fortune 500 companies and major multinational corporations. They practice in 50 legal areas focused on corporate, employment, environmental, finance, government services, intellectual property, labor, litigation and real estate law.

The office is welcoming and values innovative problem-solving for client issues, focused on putting efficient attorney teams in place to accomplish client goals. We think of ourselves as not just lawyers, but business advisers who bring new ideas to the table.

Barnes & Thornburg attorneys are deeply involved in the Central Indiana communities in which we live and work. The Indianapolis office has been recognized as the No. 1 large company to work for in Indiana in the Indianapolis Star/WorkplaceDynamics Top Workplaces employee survey. That dedication to excellence has translated into the type of successful client service one should expect from a successful, full-service law firm.
